Rising to New Life- “This is the day the Lord has made; let us rejoice and be glad.” Easter is the great celebration of victory of life over death.

Ours is an Easter religion. We do not deny or turn away from the evils that surround us: the wars that have killed some 100 million people in our (last) century; the poverty that grips more than half of the human race; the hunger that kills millions every year and ruins the lives of millions more; the discrimination that divides the human family into contending parties.

We do not deny these miseries, but we refuse to surrender to their power because of our faith in the resurrection of Jesus Christ.

Suffering will be vindicated; death will be overcome; a new life will arise: that is the Easter message of the paschal mystery.

“Let us feast with joy in the Lord.” Just as Christ passed through death to resurrection, so too will the world pass through its suffering to the glory of a new life.

There is no room for despair: our Easter faith tells us that God will “raise us up and renew our lives.”

This is the ‘day which the Lord has made.’ Alleluia! Take fresh hope, brothers and sisters of the whole world! With Christ our Passover everything is possible! Christ goes forward in our future!

Pope John Paul II, Easter Message, 1991: 8.

VOCATIONS CORNER Easter is our greatest feast of the Liturgical year. Our redemption has been accomplished and Jesus has overcome death. This is what we commemorate through each celebration of the Eucharist which allows us to receive our Lord in Holy Communion. We must pray, encourage and work to promote more priestly vocations so that we can continue to have the opportunity of receiving Communion. Look this week to encourage a young man to consider entering the seminary to discern a priestly vocation.

EASTER BLESSING-Rejoice in Jesus' Presence

Easter Sunday

Acts 10:34,37-43; Psalm 118; 1 Corinthians 5:6-8; John 20:1-9 or Matthew 28:1-10

Some see Easter merely as the harbinger of spring. We rejoice in the longer days and warmer weather. Easter is, of course, much more than another springtime.

Today's readings demand that we view Easter in terms of personal conversion. They help us understand Easter as the transformation experience of Jesus, which is to become the transformation experience of Christians. The empty tomb is the invitation to a fuller life.

Psalm 118 calls for the celebration of newness in one's life. The "I" of the psalm is quite likely a king who, having experienced some social or political upheaval, now sings of Yahweh's miraculous deliverance. Verse 22 describes the psalmist's amazement in terms of masonry. The stone rejected by the builders is nothing less than the cornerstone. The New Testament interprets this image as Jesus' exaltation. (See Matthew 21:42; Acts 4:11; 1 Peter 2:7.) Easter is the reversal of Jesus' passion and death; it is the celebration of new life.

In the second reading, Paul uses the imagery of Passover to motivate the moral behavior of the people. Passover celebrates the journey from the land of bondage to the land of freedom. Easter, the Christian Passover, also celebrates a journey: Jesus' trek from death to new life. This trek demands a radical change in the life of Christians: "Not with the old yeast, the yeast of malice and evil, but with the unleavened bread of sincerity and truth" (vs. 8).

Easter Sunday is not intended to be a quiet reflection on the emptiness of the tomb. Rather, it is the recalling of Jesus' transformation that calls for conversion in our lives. All of us are to become cornerstones. Those who labor for the transformation of the poor, the indigent, and the disenfranchised are the new stone of the empty tomb, announcing the defeat of death and the victory of the truly human life Jesus won for us on the cross.

QUESTIONS FOR REFLECTION What is the significance of the word "witness," in this sentence, "We are witnesses of all that he did"? Peter uses it both as a noun (meaning "observer") and a verb (meaning "corroborate," "testify"). So it is something you can be and do. Be: how are you a witness? Do: what is your action to witness to the truth?

One of Paul's last directives (Colossians 3:15) is to let the peace of Christ control our hearts. How do you do that if you're feeling confused or paralyzed with fear, or depressed? Where did the disciples find help obtaining peace? Is their source available to you?

"For they did not yet understand the Scripture. ..." And then John tells us in Jn 20: 11-18, " ... she turned around and saw Jesus there, but did not know it was Jesus." Do you understand everything about the resurrection? Do you always recognize Jesus in your everyday life? Do you ask yourself at night where you might have run into Jesus (or God's love) that day?

NEXT SUNDAY SCRIPTURES: 2nd Sunday of Easter Acts 2:42-47; Ps 118; 1Peter 1:3-9; John 20:19-31
